Dear Parent/Guardian,

As part of the reopening plan, teachers will be recording their lessons as they are being taught to students in the classroom to provide asynchronous learning for remote or hybrid students.

These lesson recordings will be available only to students within the class through the teacher's google classroom, they will not be posted on the school website. Students in the classroom will not be visible on the recording since the camera will be facing the teacher at the front of the room. Recording will only occur during instruction.

I am aware that my child's teacher will be recording his/her lesson while my child is in the classroom or attending virtually and give consent.
